A major, Danish seal of approval and a five- year product warranty

We have decades of experience within producing and quality testing taps and shower systems. Our Danish engineers thoroughly test everything - from component to surface. When using your Damixa product, you are therefore guaranteed a huge share of security coming along with the water. Year after year.

As something extraordinary, we give you an extended guarantee of five years on all of our products. Our employees and local partners are always ready to assist you with their extensive experience and product knowledge. Before and after the product has been installed.

Damixa DNA and a long story made short

Design is in our Danish DNA. We follow in the footsteps of Danish designers and add a little extra love to utility items that are used every day.

To us, making sure that the things you use the most are also the most well thought out, tried and tested and well-designed makes sense. We are part of your life and part of your day. With features that make sense and with design that makes you happy.

Right at your fingertips. Always.

Silhouet

Standing out by blending in

Silhouet's minimalist expression is a bright and clear design statement. With its superb functionality and sleek clean lines, Silhouet naturally suits today's and tomorrow's homes as the design fills the space by blending in.

The Silhouet series is complete with basin mixers, shower systems and freestanding bathtub mixers, as well as a wide range of accessories. Silhouet is available in eight beautiful surfaces.

Brushed graphite grey PVD

Graphite Grey is not only eye-catching, but also a very versatile surface that fits into most styles of interior. The silky brushed details add a sense of vividness to your home, ensuring a sturdy expression that fits with industrial concrete, but also adds contrast to lighter materials as wood and white porcelain. Another unique layer – or shade of grey – has been added which makes it extremely resistant to scratches and fingerprints.

Brushed copper PVD

We know the material from the beautiful copper kettles at the breweries, the saucepans in the manor kitchens and the taps at trendy cafes and restaurants. Copper matches everything from the raw industrial look to warm, urban style, with a presence that is both extravagant and casual. It is a choice that attracts attention.

Brushed brass PVD

Brass is great for setting the mood, and a choice that exudes attitude and personality. Brass has the ability to blend into the surroundings naturally, while at the same time adding an extra dimension. The expression can be warm and cosy – or cool and urban. And the special PVD coating makes the surface extremely resistant to scratches and discolouration.

Tradition

There is more to Tradition than meets the eye

In its exterior, Tradition is the epitome of the classic faucet that lights up any French country kitchen or the bathroom of a mansion. But do not be fooled: Inside hides all the functionality that characterizes Damixa.

Efforts have been made to preserve references to the classic expression: in design language, porcelain ornamentation and surfaces in brass, copper, and chrome.

Matt black

Matt black is stylish, minimalist and elegant. With its toned-down expression, it adds a touch of luxury to everything from the raw, urban kitchen to the sensuous spa bathroom. The matt black finish keeps its colour, year after year. The robust surface is easy to clean and both dirt and fingerprint resistant.

Pine

Don't be so square

Small details can make a big difference. Pine's design is inspired by the rounded square-trend. It challenges the idea that a square should be a square and ensure the faucets are nice to touch and inspiring in their expression.

The Pine series matches the personal style of the modern kitchen and bathroom and offers user-friendly functions such as Anti Scalding and Water Saving features. Pine is available in three surfaces: chrome, matt black and steel.

Matt white

White is the colour of new beginnings. And white taps are a design innovation where the colour truly comes into its own in very simple designs. The ideal choice to complement the bright kitchen or bathroom. Or to create contrast to colourful surfaces. The silky matt surface is nice to the touch, and the resilient, specially treated surface is surprisingly easy to keep clean and pure white.

Chrome

In taps, chrome is the equivalent of the white shirt or the little black dress. Stylish, timeless, and utterly classic. A material that lets the design take centre stage, and blends in naturally in everything from industrial kitchens to Nordic farmhouse kitchens. And the surface is both durable and easy to maintain.

Steel PVD

For generations, stainless steel has been associated with professional kitchens, where the appearance of the materials only improves with use. The elegant steel surface has long since moved into the home.

The material fits well with the relaxed, Nordic lifestyle, where everyday design must be both functional and visually appealing.

Integrated savings and a limited carbon footprint

We constantly work to develop solutions that make our products use as few resources as possible without compromising on comfort and user-friendliness.

We use features such as cold start, eco-save and water-saving aerators to make sure that you use a lot less water and energy without even noticing. All integrated in our products so that you do not have to think about it when choosing a tap from Damixa

Tap into an abundance of colours and decor options

Damixa's surfaces are extremely durable and robust. Our classic colours have proven their worth for generations, and no new surfaces are launched without having undergone extensive quality tests.

We can therefore guarantee that they will pass the most important test of all: Any normal day in your home. All surfaces recur in Damixa's complete range, and you can therefore get anything from taps to towel hooks in the exact same colour. Thus, Damixa always taps into your unique decor style.
